Financial Services Guide

This document is a Financial Services Guide (FSG) issued by Futu Securities (Australia) Ltd (ABN 51095920648) trading as Moomoo AU (Moomoo AU, we, our or us). Moomoo AU is an Australian Financial Services (AFS) licensee (Licence No: 224663) licensed by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC). This FSG is an important document that tells you about the products and services that Moomoo AU is authorised to provide to you under its AFS licence in order to help you to decide whether to use our services.

Contents

This FSG contains important information about:

- 1 Who we are
- 2 What financial services we offer
- 3 How you can provide us with instructions
- 4 How we and others are remunerated in connection with the services
- 5 How we use the personal information collected from you
- 6 How we deal with complaints
- 7 Professional indemnity
- 8 How you can contact us

1 | Who we are

Moomoo AU is an Australian Financial Services licensee (Licence No: 224663) licensed by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC).

Moomoo AU's parent company, Futu Holdings Limited (Nasdaq: FUTU), is backed by various strategic and venture capital investors including Tencent, Sequoia Capital, and Matrix Partners.

Moomoo AU is a broker-dealer based in Sydney and licenses an online trading platform (moomoo) from an affiliated entity called Moomoo Inc.. The moomoo trading platform is completely free to download with no commitment to open a brokerage account. Our clients can use moomoo to apply to us for a brokerage account.

For further information on Moomoo AU, you can refer to our website, <https://www.moomoo.com/au>, and the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) database.

2 | What financial services we offer

Moomoo AU holds an AFS licence (Licence No: 224663) under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act). We are authorized by our affiliated entity called Moomoo Inc., to be the operator of the moomoo trading platform. Under our AFS licence we are authorised to provide the following financial services:

- deal in financial products;
- provide general financial product advice;
- apply for, acquire, vary or dispose of financial products on behalf of another person; and
- provide custodial or depository services (other than investor directed portfolio services).

to retail and wholesale clients.

We provide financial services in respect of the following classes of financial products:

- deposit and payment products limited to basic deposit products;
- general insurance products;
- debentures, stocks or bonds issued or proposed to be issued by a government;
- interests in managed investment schemes (excluding investor directed portfolio services); and
- securities.

We may provide general advice and information in respect of financial products and services that can be dealt with through moomoo. This information or advice does not take into account your personal financial situation, objectives or needs. Therefore, before acting on the financial advice, you should consider the appropriateness of such advice having regard to your personal financial situation, objectives or needs.

We do not provide, and are not authorised to provide, personal financial product advice. It is at your own discretion to decide whether or not you want to use our services. In the event that you need assistance or advice in this regard, you should consult a suitably qualified financial adviser. You will not receive a Statement of Advice from us.

When you use the moomoo trading platform we will provide custodial and depository services (other than investor directed portfolio services) to you and will hold the financial products acquired by you on bare trust. moomoo has a custody arrangement with a third-party asset holder (sub-custodian), under which the sub-custodian will hold legal title to financial products that you acquire. moomoo will hold the beneficial interest in your financial products on your behalf. Under a bare trust the trustee that holds your financial products will only deal in those products in accordance with your instructions. This is known as a “Custodian Model” for holding financial products. A Custodian Model is offered by moomoo whether you are a retail or a wholesale client.

An alternative to the Custodian Model is the CHESs-sponsored model, which is not available through moomoo. There are pros and cons associated with each model, some of which are described below.

Custodian Model		CHESs sponsored model
Pros	Cons	Pros	Cons
Access to international markets – holding a custodial account enables you to trade in international markets.	Communications – because you will not appear on an entity’s member register, you will not receive information directly from that entity.	Direct ownership – under the CHESs system you hold legal title to your securities via your Holder Identification Number (HIN).	Higher costs – there are usually higher fees associated with acquiring financial products via the CHESs system.
Easier administration – removes the various forms of communications sent by issuers and share registries. You can participate in corporate actions by simply instructing Moomoo.	Legal title – although you will hold a beneficial interest in the products you acquire, a custodian will hold legal title to your financial products. This means the custodian’s name will appear on an entity’s member register.	Verification – because your CHESs holdings are linked to your HIN which is linked to your tax file number.	Access to international markets – because CHESs is specific to Australia, you cannot buy or sell in international markets. You may be required to open an account that uses a Custodian Model to trade in international markets.

Lower costs - under a Custodian Model there are generally lower costs than under the CHESSE sponsored model.	Voting rights - you can instruct Moomoo to cast proxy votes in shareholder meetings on your behalf.	Voting rights – are directly granted to you by the issuers.	Paperwork – you receive shareholder notices and other communications from all issuers and registries of which you own shares, some requires written correspondence from you in order to participate in certain corporate actions.

3 | How you can provide us with instructions

Moomoo AU will accept your order instructions via our online trading platform (moomoo), which is available at <https://www.moomoo.com/au>.

If you place an order to trade with us, we will send you a confirmation once your order has been traded. You should review the confirmation immediately upon receipt to ensure its accuracy and report any discrepancies to us via our Client Service Centre on our website.

To change your personal details, you need to follow the relevant process on moomoo.

Further information on how to transact with us can be found in the Client Services Agreement, as available on our website at <https://www.moomoo.com/au>.

4 | How we and others are remunerated in connection with the services

The information in this section is subject to change from time to time and does not include information in relation to taxes or duties that you may be required to pay in relation to an investment. Unless otherwise stated, all fees, charges, brokerage fees and benefits disclosed in this FSG are inclusive of the Goods and Services Tax (GST).

Generally, the payment we receive will be based on the amount of fees we charge you. Our fees and charges may vary from one financial product to another. Details of our fees and charges are contained in the Fees Schedule which is available on our website at <https://www.moomoo.com/au>.

Moomoo AU does not charge any fees for basic market information or general financial product advice that we provide, however we may charge additional fees for paid research reports, sophisticated market data or any other paid contents or information service which may attract fees from external providers.

Moomoo AU staff receive a salary and may receive bonuses and other benefits from time to time. Remuneration is not directly attributable to the investments made by retail clients.

Various members of the FUTU Group and their directors and employees provide certain services to us to enable us to provide the services described in this FSG. The costs of providing these services are paid by us from the fees we receive. They may trigger an additional cost to you if applicable.

None of Moomoo AU's related directors, employees or associates receives any other remuneration or benefits in respect of financial services provided to our retail clients.

5 | How we use the personal information collected from you

We collect your personal information for the primary purpose of establishing and administering your investments with us, communicating with you and providing you with access to protected areas of our websites. We also collect some personal information to meet our obligations, under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 and the Corporations Act. We use and disclose personal information to administer your investment, conduct product and market research, and deal with your concerns. We collect personal information through our interactions with you, as well as in some instances from your financial adviser or other authorised representatives, your organisation, public sources and information brokers. Moomoo AU may take reasonable steps to verify information collected.

A Privacy Policy setting out further details of our handling of personal information is available upon request or from our website at <https://www.moomoo.com/au>. The Privacy Policy contains information about how you can access and seek correction of your personal information, about how you can complain or enquire about breaches of your privacy and about how we will deal with your complaint or enquiry.

We may disclose your information to our related or affiliated entities and to our service providers who assist us with, among other things, data storage and archiving, auditing, accounting, customer contact, legal, business consulting, banking, payment, data processing, data analysis, information broking, research, website and technology services, and who may be located in Australia or overseas. Your personal information may be disclosed to the Australian and overseas regulatory authorities at reasonable request by those authorities. We may also disclose your information to external parties on your behalf, such as your financial adviser, unless you have instructed otherwise.

We take reasonable steps to ensure that any recipient of your personal information do not breach the privacy obligations relating to your personal information.

Moomoo AU and its related or affiliated entities may use your information on occasion, to inform you by telephone, electronic messages (like email), online and other means, about other services or products offered by us or them. We may do this on an ongoing basis, but you may opt out at any time.

If you wish to opt out, update or request access to your information, obtain a copy of our Privacy Policy or raise any queries or concerns regarding privacy, you may contact our Compliance Officer by contacting our Client Services Centre using the contact details below in the “How you contact us” section (see section 8 of this FSG).

6 | How we deal with complaints

If you have an enquiry or complaint, you can contact one of our Client Services Officers using the Client Services Centre on our website or within the moomoo App. We have established procedures to ensure that all enquiries and complaints are considered and dealt with in a timely and appropriate manner.

If our Client Services Officers are unable to resolve it to your satisfaction, please contact our Complaints Manager at complaints@au.moomoo.com to lodge a formal complaint. Once received, your complaint will be acknowledged and steps will be taken to investigate your concerns. A final response will be provided within 30 calendar days in accordance with our obligations.

If you are still not satisfied with the result of our investigation, you may lodge an external complaint with the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA) by visiting its website, <https://www.afca.org.au/make-a-complaint>, of which we are a member (Membership No: 11109).
